

APPLICATION SECURITY TESTING

FIND VULNERABILITIES BEFORE ATTACKERS DO

The vast majority of applications have weaknesses waiting to be exploited. CBI's Application Testing Services address sophisticated threats to the application layer with expert penetration testing.

CBI, A Converge Company combines advanced technology with our team of application testers – all former web developers – to assess your applications and identify overlooked vulnerabilities and exploits. Detailed results—including attack simulations—are readily accessible through our secure Advanced Testing Services [ATS] portal. Developers can consult with us on findings and retest discovered vulnerabilities to verify successful remediation.
