

SECURITY PRODUCT SERVICES

ALIGN YOUR SECURITY STACK WITH DESIRED OUTCOMES

Organizations often try to keep up with threats by purchasing the latest and greatest technology. But managing an assortment of tools from different vendors makes security operations complex and time-consuming. CBI Security Product Services are designed to streamline your investments with a business-centric approach that focuses on optimizing controls, so you can enhance security and reduce time to value.

OUR APPROACH

Our experts assess the effectiveness of your controls with an eye toward supporting your journey to the cloud, and establishing a solid foundation of integrated solutions.

We Evaluate, Architect, & Implement Security Solutions Across Seven Key Areas

- Cloud
- Network
- Endpoint
- User
- Application
- Data
- SIEM/UEBA

Competitive Functions & Features Analysis

We take the work out of keeping up with the latest analyst research, gathering recommendations and conducting proof-of-concept (POC) testing. We conduct a detailed analysis, and present results in a comprehensive yet easy-to-understand matrix that significantly reduces the time it takes to identify best-fit solutions.

Return on Security Investment Analysis

We apply our proprietary process and analyze your security stack to produce relevant insights and recommendations tuned to your organization. Findings are presented in an executive summary that can be used to pursue the executive buy-in you need to strengthen your security posture.

Budget Optimization

We work directly with vendors to consolidate and reduce the cost of renewals, and leverage top-tier partnership levels to provide optimal product pricing so you can better manage your security budget.

Technology Roadmaps

Our experts conduct proactive security stack reviews, and detail new and upcoming feature capabilities from existing vendors. This enables us to demonstrate how additional functionality can impact your security program.

We maintain executive-level relationships with leading cybersecurity technology providers, and actively participate in numerous advisory boards. This enables us to enrich our perspective on trends, and provide insight into the strategies of top manufacturers.

We are available when you need us, with the added assurance of enhanced service level agreements between CBI and your organization.
